Does Mother's Day sneak up on you some years and catch you without a fitting gift for your mother, daughter, grandmother, aunt, or other motherly loved ones? This important date is a time to show the mothers in our lives how much we cherish them and all they've done for us. But sometimes it's hard to come up with just the right gift to bring a smile to the lips of the moms we love. One of the best ways to show our everlasting appreciation is with living beauty. The eternal nature of flowers and greenery are symbolic of our feelings for recipients and always appreciated.

But how do you determine the best floral arrangement for the moms on your list? If you already know their favorite flowers or types of arrangements, your job is as easy as tapping a number into your phone. But if you're looking for some fresh ideas, read on to see some new takes on gifts to mark this special occasion.

Custom Arrangements

Original designs can delight. Imagine Mom's elation at the sight of a lavishly colored and flowing arrangement created just for her. Think custom bouquets of fresh cut flowers presented in a vase, bubble bowl, basket, or cube. The creative possibilities are unlimited in the eyes of a skilled floral designer. Whether you allow the designer to create on their own or you place an order indicating a theme or Mom's favorite flowers, the result can be a beautiful expression of love for a mom on her special day.

European Garden

Go green with a composition of seasonal blooming plants in the form of a "European Garden." Designed in a natural wicker basket, the European Garden can feature a combination of indoor and outdoor blooming and green plants. This versatile and long-lasting goodie makes a great addition to any mom's garden or home, and will leave others green with envy!

Orchid Plants

Step outside the usual floral box with the exotic elegance of orchid plants. They symbolize true love and admiration. For centuries orchid plants have been given as gifts of endearment. Their unique blooms and thick hardy leaves compliment any decor whether traditional or contemporary.

Classic Beauty

The classics are always in, and roses are the classic floral selection for all gift-giving occasions. They come in loads of varieties and colors. Pink roses are a popular selection for Mothers Day because they symbolize appreciation and gratitude, and look most beautiful when presented as open blooms.

Shower the moms in your life with living beauty this Mother's Day to let them know that your love for them will always live on.
