Lockridge Bakery Offers Sexy Five Minute Spots Eat More Cakes Promotes Cooking In Red Stilettos Class

LOCKRIDGE, IL – Eat Moore Cakes, a designer cake decorating studio, located in Lockport IL, is spicing up local TV shows with a five-minute spot from their “Cooking in Red Stilettos” class. Eat Moore Cakes entertaining class sessions are loaded with fun, food, and fabulous ways to keep some sizzle in students’ cooking. “Cooking in Red Stilettos” shows women how to make delicious and easy food like Poached Pears in Merlot and Floating Chocolate Cake Island--and look amazing in the process. Now this designer cake decorating studio is making some of their fun tips available to local television viewers.

The Cooking in Red Stilettos spot provides TV news and talk shows with a unique hook to grab viewers’ attention. The spot can be promoted many ways, including appealing to women’s desire to look nice, unusual and creative ideas for a holiday outing for women, giving the gift of attendance to female friends and relatives, or using the class sessions to make unique holiday gifts. The cooking demo will entertain viewers and give them useful cooking tips.

When talking about the class, Owner La Trecia Moore says, “We saw a need for our clients and we were pleased to fulfill it. The overwhelming success of our recent class in October proves our belief that women like to look as appealing as their food while cooking. And they believe that their men like them to look that way too.”

The studio’s next class is scheduled for December 13, 2014 from 12:30 to 4 p.m. at 12314 W North Avenue, Chicago, IL. Registration for spring classes is also underway. The cost to participate is $40 per person and these hands-on classes include:

- Chef hat and apron
- Cooking Poached Pears in Merlot
- Dressing each dessert
- Take home box for participant’s desserts
- Tasting 3 dessert wines to pair with the desserts
- Mixology session

- Sip one of our signature drinks made and shaken for you
- Eatery
- Recipe card
- Discount on one in-home demo
